A letter from Penny Pennington

Managing Partner

We are fueled by our purpose: to partner for positive impact to improve the lives of our clients and colleagues, and together, better our communities and society. These aren't just words on a page, they are how we focus our priorities and how we measure our success.

We celebrated some major milestones in 2024:

- The 50th anniversary of our first Limited Partnership offering, which continues to elevate colleagues as owners of our firm and our destiny
- Growing to more than 20,000 financial advisors in more than 15,000 North American branches, meeting the increasing demand for advice. Our growth enables us to serve even more clients and communities, more completely
- Educating 1 million learners through our Edward Jones Financial Fitness program since 2020, helping people grow their financial knowledge and build resiliency

We're improving the lives of our clients by creating greater access to comprehensive advice and planning. With an estimated $124 trillion² generational wealth transfer underway, client demographics — along with their needs, wants and wishes — are evolving. We are evolving too, by:

- Investing in training and innovative technologies, products and solutions that enable our financial advisors and client support team professionals to serve our clients more completely
- Serving new and existing clients in more tailored ways
- Offering clients more values-based, sustainable investing and charitable giving choices so their saving — and their giving — can make an impact where it matters most to them

We're improving the lives of our colleagues.

At Edward Jones, we believe every person deserves the opportunity to thrive personally and professionally. We act on this belief by supporting all aspects of our colleagues' well-being by:

- Providing robust health and wellness benefits
- Investing in their career goals with ongoing training, leadership development and professional designation opportunities; for example, at the end of 2024, the Partnership had more colleagues with the CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® or CFP® designation* — and the Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional™ or FPQP® designation than any other firm in the industry
- Creating a place where everyone feels they belong

We've invested in the colleague experience at Edward Jones to ensure we're an employer of choice in our industry and across all industries. Our primary goal is for every colleague to feel their voice is respected, heard and valued.

Nearly 15,000 colleagues from across the firm participated in events throughout the year, like our Annual Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Conference, which seeks to build business acumen and foster more inclusive environments where different perspectives can thrive. Our Better Together Summits, Business Resources Groups and ongoing programming also help us celebrate multiple cultures, share passions, and learn from each other to deepen our connections.

We're bettering our communities and society

by giving our time, talent and financial resources. In 2024, we gave more than 308,000 volunteer hours and $47.4 million through corporate, Edward Jones Foundation and associate philanthropic support; and we're always finding new ways to give back. We're proud to be a pioneering partner in Financial Futures, a collaborative cohort model of economic inclusion.

We also believe health is critical for helping people establish, build, give away and pass on their wealth. In 2024 alone,

- Edward Jones raised over $6.5 million for the fight to end Alzheimer's
- We contributed 346,000 CAD to the Terry Fox Foundation for cancer research

It is my privilege to lead alongside approximately 55,000 colleagues whose shared purpose is making people and places better than we found them. We look forward to another year of helping our clients, colleagues and communities achieve what is most important to them. I hope you'll be heartened by our colleagues' compelling stories — and the measures by which we hold our firm accountable.

Together, we are making a difference.

Our purpose drives our actions

We deeply value our clients, colleagues and communities. To better understand our stakeholders’ priorities, we conducted a materiality assessment* with clients, financial advisors, branch associates, home office associates, future talent, community members, industry representatives, partners, regulatory representatives and investors to understand where our efforts can make a meaningful difference.

The feedback we received will continue to provide insight to us as we evaluate our strategic objectives, risk management and resource allocations. We’ve prioritized our focus on our three purpose impact areas: Partnering for Lasting Financial Strength, Promoting Healthier Futures and Advancing Inclusive Growth.

*The materiality assessment does not mean material from a financial reporting perspective.

Our purpose: We partner for positive impact to improve the lives of our clients, colleagues and communities, and together, better our communities and society.

Partnering for Lasting Financial Strength 	Promoting Healthier Futures 	Advancing Inclusive Growth
We believe in the power of financial knowledge and confidence and a personal, needs-based approach to build long-lasting financial strength.	We work to promote the mental, emotional, physical, financial and social well-being of those impacted by health issues, so each person can live an enriching life.	We invest to lift all people and communities, including the underserved, by equipping more people to fully participate in the economy and build the future they want.

Purpose impact outcomes: We’ve committed to three purpose impact outcomes to hold ourselves accountable to our three main stakeholder groups as we bring our purpose to life.

We will improve the lives of our clients by ...	We will improve the lives of our colleagues by ...	We will better our communities and society by ...
Creating greater access to financial resources, education and guidance.	Partnering for greater colleague health and well-being.	Investing in economic inclusion to create opportunities for more people.

We're committed to improving the lives of our clients

We're improving access to financial resources, education and guidance, bolstering the confidence and resiliency of more families, including those we have yet to serve.

We take this responsibility seriously. More than 9 million clients trust the experience of our more than 20,000 financial advisors with their needs and aspirations, and we're continuously evolving our practices to better serve and support them.

We're expanding our approach to client service

Client needs and expectations are evolving quickly, with more people seeking holistic financial advice and planning than ever before. For example, according to McKinsey's 2024 Wealth Management Survey, 52% of affluent consumers now desire holistic financial advice and planning, up 79% versus 2018.⁴ We are transforming our business to provide more financial advice to more people throughout North America.

We aspire to improve financial wellness for millions of our clients by providing access to comprehensive, professional advice and personalized planning. By helping clients establish, grow, pass on and give away their wealth, we will leave people and places better than we found them.

Our client satisfaction scores are among best-in-class, especially for those clients receiving comprehensive advice.⁵

Our Strategic Roadmap

Continue investing in technology to launch financial planning. Continue to deliver comprehensive service to our clients through strategic investments in financial planning tools and technology such as MoneyGuide and Salesforce.

Deliver access to comprehensive advice and planning, products and services at scale to serve different types of clients. Meet the growing demand for advice and expand the scope of our services across segments.

Attract and serve new client segments. Expand our reach and find opportunities to connect with new clients that we have not typically served in the past or could better serve.

Be the premier firm to start, grow, optimize and pass on a practice. Give financial advisors greater flexibility, autonomy and choice in how they run their practice and enable client support team professionals to grow and expand in their roles.

Become a knowledge-powered advice firm by delivering leading data-powered insights to better serve clients. Gather expertise and wisdom from across the organization to create more capacity for branch teams and provide even greater value to our clients.

We're focused on attracting new client segments and addressing industry trends so we can serve more clients more completely

For 102 years, we've embraced our founder's son and former Managing Partner Ted Jones' vision of bringing Wall Street to Main Street, focusing on broadening access to the capital markets for thousands of middle-class Americans often overlooked by other financial services firms. Today, we have both the opportunity and responsibility to expand our impact by serving more people in more communities, tailoring our products, services and experiences to their unique needs.

In addition to our core business, we've identified innovative ways to serve more clients more completely, especially as their needs and goals become more complex across health, family, purpose and finance. We are expanding our advice and guidance to serve high net worth clients and small businesses, and helping newer investors establish and build wealth.

We emphasize a comprehensive approach

As the firm evolves to serve more clients more completely, and seeks to understand their needs, wants and wishes, three key elements define our goals-based advice approach: discovering what's most important to our clients and why, establishing and creating personal strategies, and implementing those strategies with our clients. We're aligning investment choices with client values

Our clients' investment choices can reflect their personal values. We provide choices to meet their needs, like offering mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs) so that clients who choose to do so can invest in values-based and socially conscious ways as part of their financial strategy.

The Edward Jones Charitable Gift Fund helps clients leave a legacy through donor-advised funds (DAFs). A DAF is a charitable giving tool that allows clients to make a contribution to a charitable fund and potentially receive an immediate tax deduction. Over time, clients can make a lasting impact by requesting grants be made to 501(c)(3) public charities.

Client protection in action

Spotting the red flags: Recently, a senior client requested several large withdrawals and was not forthcoming on the reason for the withdrawals. The branch contacted Senior Client Protection who then involved a trusted contact, the client's daughter.

The Senior Client Protection team worked to uncover that the client believed they had won a sweepstakes and were requesting withdrawals to pay the taxes. Through the quick and vigilant actions of our internal and external resources, the client's account was secured from additional withdrawals and a portion of the distributed funds were able to be recovered.

This year, Edward Jones supported the development and introduction of The Improving Retirement Security for Family Caregivers Act and the Catching Up Family Caregivers Act in the House of Representatives and Senate in Washington, D.C. These bipartisan bills would provide additional retirement savings opportunities to the millions of Americans who provide caregiving services to family members. The firm's Policy, Regulatory and Government Relations team, in partnership with the Edward Jones Grassroots Task Force, is advocating for the passage of these bills to help more Americans save for a secure and dignified retirement.

Edward Jones is a proud supporter of the Working Group on Inclusive Finance at the Aspen Institute Financial Security Program. The working group recently provided critical input to shape the National Strategy for Financial Inclusion in the United States announced by the U.S. Department of the Treasury in October 2024, to improve access to financial products and services and strengthen financial security.

We are committed to being transparent, responsible leaders

Our four core values guide us: Our clients' interest comes first; we believe in a quality-oriented, long-term investment philosophy; we value working in partnership; and individuals and their contributions are valued and respected.

"During my first few months here, I've been inspired by Edward Jones' commitment to integrity and transparency. I've witnessed the firm's commitment to protecting retail investors, in particular seniors, against fraud and abuse. I'm excited to work across the firm to further strengthen our processes, foster a culture of accountability, and safeguard the trust our clients and associates place in us."

—Jen Grego, Principal and
Chief Compliance Officer

Edward Jones

Our values come to life through our Culture of Compliance, which includes:

- Our Code of Ethical Conduct, which defines the ethical standards and principles that guide our conduct across the entire firm, as well as routine ethics trainings and our risk management framework.
- Our Culture of Compliance program empowers field associates to lead and educate their regions to mitigate compliance risks while maintaining the highest professional and ethical standards. Regular development sessions help build their compliance IQ, including sessions on fraud and senior client protection.

An efficient governance structure helps us deliver more value to more clients and families in more communities.

- Our Enterprise Leadership Team guides our vision, strategy and enterprise operations while advising the Managing Partner and making major capital allocations.
- The Operating Committee drives strategic direction, reinforces priorities for multi-year goals, monitors performance and leads resource and workforce planning.
- The firm's Audit Committee oversees the integrity of our financial statements, reporting processes, and external and internal auditor performance.

Continuing the legacy of Ted & Pat Jones

In 2025, Ted and Pat Jones would have celebrated their 100th birthdays — Pat on Nov. 16 and Ted on Dec. 18. Ted and Pat remain hugely influential on so many aspects of our firm, and on our work to make a positive impact on the people and places we serve throughout North America.

Throughout the year we will be hosting several events and opportunities to celebrate the lasting legacy of Ted and Pat Jones with our clients, colleagues and our communities.

⁸ Investors should understand the risks involved in owning investments, including interest rate risk, credit risk and market risk. The value of investments fluctuate and investors can lose some or all of their principal. Investing with a purpose is a personal choice. Investors can build a well-diversified portfolio with or without a sustainable or values-based strategy. An investment strategy that prioritizes a non-financial goal ahead of traditional fundamentals or financial returns may result in increased volatility and experience underperformance when compared to traditional strategies. Sustainable investing is a subjective practice and some of the criteria Edward Jones may use to identify investments as sustainable may not align with criteria of all clients.
